New Website and Company Logo Launched

Cratos Hospitality Services Ltd is proud to announce the launch of their new Website and Company Logo. Over the last few months, Cratos have been developing their new Website and Logo to enhance the Sales and Marketing division of the Business.

"Up to now our presence in the market place has been very much word of mouth. We have decided that in 2005 we would gear up our Sales and Marketing side of the business to make ourselves more known within the Market. This meant a new image that people could identify with. A professional looking Website and easily identifiable Logo were very much big factors of this image. We are also increasing our Sales and Marketing Team and will be attending more Trade shows during 2005" said Robert B Stuart, CEO.

"Our newly appointed Website has been a joint effort between Cratos and a Sales and Marketing Company and we are extremely pleased with the results. We are committed to keeping the site updated daily with any new announcements and press releases." said Jeremy Westcott, Operations Director.

"We were very happy to supply the images of our Restaurants to Cratos for use on their Website" said Kevin Depree, IT manager of Loch Fyne Restaurants.
